

Associate Value Creation Team (f/m/d)

THI Investments is a multi-generation, single-family office with assets under management of € 2.0bn. As a Private Equity investor, we invest into European (lower) mid-market companies with great management teams and sustainable long-term growth prospects in the sectors Business Services, Education & Training, Healthcare and Industrials. We are active investors with significant experience in building successful businesses internationally, enabling us to add value to existing leadership teams and companies. Our mission is to support our partners in executing their goals and move their companies from good to great.

Next to Private Equity, THI invests into Real Estate and a broad Capital Markets portfolio. Our international team consists of more than 20 professionals in Stuttgart and London.

As Associate in our Value Creation Team, you directly support the setup and execution of value creation projects with our portfolio companies and management teams. You will be responsible for specific components of a project, like market analysis, competitor benchmarking or the preparation and execution of management workshops along the broader value creation strategy. You will apply and develop your analytical skills, creativity, business judgement and interpersonal skills from day one, working across different portfolio companies, investment sectors and geographies. You will support our core deal teams to identify and detail value creation opportunities during transactions and be an active contributor to THI's origination activities, supporting the formulation of deal hypotheses and the identification of new investment targets. You will do so as part of a highly skilled, international and diverse team of unique characters that will allow you to pursue a steep learning curve both professionally and personally.

Your profile:

- 1-3 years' experience in a top tier consulting, investment or corporate strategy role.
- Master's degree with excellent academic achievements.
- Excellent analytical skills, strong attention to detail, as well as a hands-on mentality.
- Good understanding of value creation mechanics in the Private Equity context.
- Passion for business models, business transformation and investment hypotheses.
- High level of commitment, initiative and sense of responsibility.
- Team player with entrepreneurial mentality.
- Fluency in English and German.
- Very good knowledge of MS Office, additional IT and software skills are welcome.

Your application:

We look forward to receiving your application documents (cover letter, resume, certificates and references) via e-mail to recruiting@thi-investments.com. If you have any questions, please contact Ms. Flamme by phone or e-mail (+49 711 49050 533; k.flamme@thi-investments.com) or visit our website at www.thi-investments.com.